

About the Company

Mannatech is more than a fast-growing, research-driven wellness company. We're a company with a culture of giving. Our mission is to help people achieve a better quality of life in three areas of consumer concern: their health, weight and fitness, and skin.

History of Innovation

Our product innovations represent new wellness technologies in these three categories:

- Health: We began with the development of Ambrotose[®] complex, delivering ingredients that are beneficial to our bodies. The Ambrotose[®] complex is the cornerstone of our Optimal Health System.
- Weight and Fitness: our Optimal Weight Management and Fitness products offer weight-management solutions.
- Skin: Most recently, Mannatech has led the skin care industry with our water-based system, designed to nourish, hydrate and promote more youthful, radiant-looking skin.

Mannatech's significant milestones

- In 1999 Mannatech became a company publicly traded on the U.S. NASDAQ and continues to be financially solid and essentially debt-free.
- Ranked #5 in America's "200 Best Small Companies in the United States.*"
- Global expansion of its advanced wellness technology has helped propel Mannatech to Business Week's list of "Hot Growth 100 Small Companies in the United States."

Helping Others

Despite our business success, Mannatech was built on the decidedly "un-corporate" principle of giving. We achieve Authentic Success by providing value and service to others and by placing their interests before our own.

Mannatech wants to help you feel, look and live well, whether that means offering you a chance to try our products at no risk or helping you to start your own business.

We invite you to begin the journey to an enriched quality of life.
